Twenty Dollars For Two

You would not trade twenty dollars' worth of butter for two dollars' worth of real. Yet I can name bright farmers, right in this neighborhood, who feed young stock butter fat worth 25 to 35 cents a pound, when oil meal would be just as good for them. If you feed milk and skimmed by hand, you are leaving one-quarter to one-half the butter fat in the milk. You are feeding valuable butter to produce cheap calf or pig fat. Gentlemen, that doesn't pay.

DEFENDANTS LOSE BAIL

Two Bondsmen in Dynamite Case Withdraw

HAND SMYTHE AND RAY BACK

To the Authorities—No Reason for the Action Is Put Forward—Government Witnesses Bring in Clancy and Munsey.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Edward Smythe and James E. Ray of Peoria, Ill., two of the forty-five defendants in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial, were placed in jail yesterday because their bondsmen withdrew the security on which the men had been at liberty. At the opening of court attorneys for the bondsmen announced they would surrender the prisoners who then were placed in the custody of the United States marshal. The reason for the withdrawal of the bonds was not given. Smythe, who is superintendent of construction of the city of Peoria, was former secretary-treasurer of a local iron workers' union. In Orrie E. MacManigal's confession he assisted the dynamiter in causing explosions at Peoria. In letters charged with writing to J. J. McNamara about "a visit of Halley's comet to Peoria." Ray, former president of a Peoria union, seldom has been mentioned since the trial began.

Smythe and Ray later were brought into court in custody. Efforts were made by the defense to procure new bondsmen. Testimony was given to day concerning explosions at Peoria. Richard H. Johnson, representative of a company which constructed a bridge at Peoria, said in 1910 Smythe, Ray and Herbert S. Hokin solicited him to put union men on the job, and Hokin added, "there will be something doing if you don't."

Non-union men were put to work, said the witness, and the first explosion occurred June 4 that year. Three months later the plant of the constructor was blown up. It was this job that McManigal failed to explode. Through this clue Johnson traced the purchase of the explosive to Portland, Ind., and thus put detectives on the trail of the dynamiters in September, 1910, a month before the loss of life at Los Angeles and six months before any arrests were made.

RANDOLPH.

Gilman Mann, who for three years and a half has been in South Dakota, arrived here on Tuesday morning for a few days' stay. Mr. Mann, who was formerly Miss May Parsons, arrived a few days earlier, and is now at the Parsons farm where she is to remain for a few days, till after the sale of stock and farm, when she will accompany her father to Manchester, where he is to remain this winter with another daughter, Mrs. Ella Parsons Connor, who has also been here this week, leaving for her home on Tuesday. Frank Parsons of New York City is also at the farm, assisting John Parsons in making ready for the auction. The farm has been in the hands of the senior Mr. Parsons for more than 40 years, where they have made their home.

Mrs. J. D. Battles of Montpelier arrived here on Tuesday to see Miss Ida Battles, who is in a serious state physically, although more comfortable at present.

Mrs. Ernest Sargent of Woodsville, N. H., arrived here Tuesday for a few days' stay with her sister, Miss Alice McIntyre, at the home of Mrs. E. L. McIntyre.

Mrs. W. W. Somerville, who has been in Burlington since Saturday, returned home Tuesday.

The Rochester club held its annual meeting on Saturday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Dyer, and following the reports, the officers for the coming year were elected, and are as follows: President, D. B. Fassett; vice-president, A. M. Hubbard; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. D. T. Dyer; social committee, Mr. O. R. Crook, Mr. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hodgkins, Mr. and Mrs. Will Cole; entertainment committee, O. R. Greene, Glenn Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griswold, Mrs. Lettie Bailey Smith, Miss Esther Hubbard. Soliciting committee, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkins, D. T. Dyer and Emory Matthews; table committee, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lamb, Miss Minnie Carpenter; hall and buying committee, Alfred Eaton. The club will not serve a Thanksgiving dinner this year but expects to hold several socials and give an entertainment during the year. This club has nearly 100 members, all former residents of Rochester.

Frederick Leeds left Tuesday for New York City, to meet a friend on his arrival from an extended trip abroad.

The Christian brotherhood held its meeting on Monday night in the Parish house with an attendance of about 75. Following the supper, Prof. Cook of the faculty of the agricultural school at Randolph Center addressed the company, on "Bacteria and Its Relation to the Present Times." This was followed by remarks and a reading by L. S. Brigham, and at the close of this Prof. H. W. Lewis, acting as impersonator, gave several interesting selections, which added much to the merit of the evening. It was thought best to purchase a piano for the room in which they assemble, and a committee was appointed to investigate and purchase one. The committee consisted of the following: Rev. J. W. Chesbro, E. T. Salisbury and Rev. Fraser Metzger.

Mrs. Carrie Philbrick and her son, Harold, who have been with Mrs. W. E. Lamson and Mrs. Julia Walsh for two weeks, left on Sunday night for their home in Cullison, Kansas, where Mrs. Philbrick is postmistress.

REFUSED TO AMEND MURDER PUNISHMENT

amendment. Mr. Jose of Johnson made one of the strongest appeals of the discussion against amending the present law. Mr. Haggood of Peru thought the present law was one of vengeance, and he supported the amendment of Mr. Miller. Mr. Cook of Lyndon was in favor of the amendment and Mr. McClure of Derby opposed. Mr. Hulet of Rutland City spoke in opposition. Mr. O'Brien of South Burlington, Mr. Ward of Benning and Mr. Cook of Essex were also opponents of the bill. Mr. Martin favored the amendment. Mr. Orvis of Manchester and Mr. Foote of Cornwall made strong appeals for the present law and a ye and nay vote on the amendment was "yes" 38, "no" 181.

During the discussion on this measure the gallery was filled and many visitors occupied seats on the floor of the House, and the discussion ended on the capital punishment bill, when Speaker Plimley called attention to the joint resolution relating to adjournment for Thanksgiving, which was adopted Monday night in the Senate. Before debate closed on this measure, the House members manifested an inclination to amend the resolution in regard to the amount of mileage the members shall draw in lieu of salary. Mr. Colburn of Milton started the talk by moving to pay the members full, instead of one-half of the mileage allowed by law. The Senate voted for half mileage. Mr. Weeks of Middlebury strongly opposed the amendment offered by Mr. Colburn and said that he wished to be put on record as against the proposition. He thought the money could be expended to better advantage than for mileage. Mr. Howley of Burlington thought it was only fair to the members to pay them their full mileage. Mr. Robbins of Newport thought it would be better to pay the members actual mileage and offered an amendment to that effect which was voted down. Then Mr. Colburn said that he thought it best to take only Thanksgiving day off. Mr. Cook moved that when the legislature adjourn it be from Friday afternoon, Dec. 2, instead of from Friday afternoon, Dec. 3, and vote on the Cook amendment was carried by 140 for and 36 against.

Mr. Mullen of West Rutland moved to further amend the joint resolution by making it read that the members shall receive no mileage. Mr. Colburn was willing to agree to this, but a motion by Mr. Carpenter of Chester that the House put a stop to further discussion prevailed.

When Senate bill 46, providing for the inspection and regulation of the sale of milk, came up yesterday in the Senate, Senator Barber offered an amendment to strike out the words referring to a "house to house" dealer. Mr. Wallis opposed on the ground that this was too broad. Senator Croft opposed giving so much authority to local health officers. The bill was ordered to lie until after the Senate took up the hedgehog bill, which Senator Henry tried to amend by making the bounty 20 cents. The amendment was lost, and the 15-cent bounty bill was passed by a vote of 21 to 6. The Senate ordered its bill 95, relating to the right of women to vote on certain matters, to lie after amending it to require a grand list of $2.

In the afternoon the Senate ordered to a third reading the creamery bill by a vote of 18 to 8, and under a suspension of the rules passed the joint resolution providing for a commission to investigate the educational system of the state. Senator Blanchard of Windsor introduced at the afternoon session a bill defining the liability of employers to employees and to establish a schedule of compensation for injury. The bill, which was referred to the committee on industrial interests, is bound to arouse discussion and a public hearing will doubtless be given the measure.

Legislative Notes.

The joint committee on the proposed constitutional amendments held a hearing in the Senate chamber yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cook of Lyndon appeared before the committee and favored all the proposals of amendment except the one which forbids the legislature to commute the death penalty. He feared this amendment would take the power of pardon from the governor. Rev. J. Hall Long of Panton opposed the same amendment. Chaplain Farman of the Senate opposed the amendment which changes the date of convening the legislature. It is understood that most of the members of the committee are in favor of ratification of the greater part of the proposals of amendment. The committee will hold another hearing this afternoon and probably will consider the amendments in executive session. It is hoped that some of the amendments may be reported to the Senate this week. In 1882 the proposals of amendment were reported individually, rather than collectively.

The committee on public health of the Senate and House gave a hearing on Tuesday afternoon in the supreme court room on Senate bill 79, providing for the sterilization of imbeciles and other defectives. Senator Johnson was the only person appearing before the committee. He referred to the laws of Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Indiana and Washington, in the last of which their law has been held by the supreme court as constitutional. While no decisions have been given in the other states, the United States supreme court has held that any state may regulate for the well-being of its state interests, and he believed that this bill would come under that decision. He told of results obtained in Indiana where the law has been in force some ten years, and he went into detail upon the operation as it is performed and results. He read letters, petitions and resolutions supporting him in his advocacy of the bill. Among these were those from Dr. D. D. Groat of the state hospital, the Enosburg Standard, a ministerial association in Franklin county, the Franklin County Medical society, Senator Davis of Orleans, Senator Roy on the approval by his physician in Barre, ex-Gov. Mead and several others. He told why this work could not be done by the state board of health, namely, because of the large amount of duties they now have.

At a hearing given Tuesday afternoon by the committee on railroads, the following persons appeared in the interests of the proposed extension of the Deerfield Valley railroad to the Massachusetts line and to Manchester: A. N. Blanding, president of the Deerfield Lumber company; Mr. Jaynes of Wilmington, president of the New England Hardware company; W. B. C. Stickney, A. C. H. Parnsley of Wilmington, all of whom are in favor of the bill as introduced. Mr. Blanding spoke of the extension as a necessity to get their lumber to market, and while they have to date carried passengers only as a matter of accommodation, they now propose to be a trunk line and carry all persons and become a common carrier. Mr. Wright of the committee wanted assurance that the company would build the northern end first, before he could feel at liberty to give them a favorable consideration. Mr. Stickney explained that the Rutland railroad would be pleased to make connections with them.

Fish and Game Topics.

The joint committees on game and fisheries gave hearings in the supreme court room on Tuesday evening on the several bills with J. G. Titcomb, state game and fish commissioner, present. The committee asked him many questions upon the bills, all of which will be held up until the new codification bill is reported to the House. This will not occur until after the membership have had time to digest it. The first bill was House 283, providing for posting the shores of Lake Champlain. He admitted the bill had some merit, but that all of it was covered in the present law, excepting that it goes further than the funds available will allow. The only thing differing from the general law is that the proposed bill would stop the carrying of a gun in July and August.

On House 312, to prevent catching fish in Sherburne pond, the general law covers this case if enforced. On House 313, by Mr. Kendrick of Greensboro, with whom Mr. Titcomb has talked, he finds that Mr. Kendrick will be suited with the codification law if he is killed. The bill will prevent fishing in Caspian lake between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise. This also will stop fishing on Sunday.

House 40 to prevent catching fish while the pickerel are spawning is in the codifications of Mr. Titcomb. The proposed deer law bills took considerable of the time, and all of them will be embodied in the Titcomb bill, and it is generally understood that these will be favorably accepted by those introducing the six bills now in the hands of the committee. The main idea is to legislate against poachers. He believes the new bill will meet the approval of Windham county. He said that the game referees, in his opinion, are going to keep up, although 25 days of hunting is allowed. He believed it would be safer for the hunters with a 25-day hunting season, and was against the use of shotguns.

On House 164, he found this bill is covered in the present law, excepting that it states the age for carrying guns, although a minor cannot carry one now without the consent of the parent or guardian. In regard to House 217, he was agreeable to the bill, but it would be of no use, as the general laws now take care of the conditions in Morrisville, as set forth in the bill. All these bills will be reported with the codification. He introduced E. H. Forbush, state ornithologist of Massachusetts, who for a few moments spoke upon the codification and the birds and game in Vermont. In brief, he commented Vermont upon having before its legislature a bill of so great a progressive measure as the codification of Mr. Titcomb. Mr. Locke of Barton wanted to know how they could get rid of the pickerel and bass in Crystal lake. Mr. Titcomb knew of no way, excepting by netting on the spawning bed in the springtime.

On House 238 on highways, he stated there are none in the state, but would like to see them tried out. He had in his experience with the United States government seen some acting favorably and some otherwise. Mr. Forbush said there are several in Massachusetts, but for the use of herring only.

Bills Introduced in House.

By Mr. Ryder of Rockingham, relating to fees received for marriage certificates, and providing for the appropriation thereof to the home for destitute children, Kurn Hattin home, and St. Joseph's orphanage. It provides that in addition to the usual marriage license fee, the person applying shall pay $4 extra, which additional money is to be divided among the homes above mentioned. Referred to the general committee.

By Mr. Hewitt of Plainfield, to amend sections 5104 and 5109 of the public statutes, relating to the traffic in intoxicating liquor. It provides for both state and town votes on license annually. If both questions carry, licenses will be granted in towns so voting; otherwise, only licenses of the fifth class are to be granted. Referred to the joint committee on temperance.

By Mr. Ransom of Jericho, providing for the teaching of agriculture, the manual arts and domestic economy in the public schools. It provides that towns maintaining high schools of the first class may maintain such courses and departments. Referred to the committee on education.

By Mr. Brigham for the committee on insurance, to repeal section 4818 of the public statutes, amended by No. 112 of the acts of 1908, and to amend sections 4819 and 4820 of the public statutes, relating to brokerage insurance. Ordered to lie and be printed.

By Mr. Pelkey of Fair Haven, to amend section 5 of No. 341 of the acts of 1906, entitled "An act to incorporate the Wallingford Water company." Referred to the committee on corporations.

ferred to the committee on corporations.

By Mr. Brigham of Bradford, to tax premiums paid to non-licensed insurance companies. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

By Mr. Demeritt of Waterbury, to enable the Christian Advent society of Waterbury to convey its church property. Referred to the committee on corporations.

Bills Introduced in Senate.

By Mr. McCuen, by request, relating to dog licenses. Referred to the general committee.

By Mr. Dyer of Addison, amending section 481 of the public statutes, relating to examination of inventories. It provides for an examination by various officials, but information must not be disclosed. Referred to the committee on finance.

By Mr. Dale, amending an act empowering the town of Brighton to construct a water system. Referred to the committee on municipal corporations.

By Mr. Chaffee, to incorporate the Wallingford Power company. Referred to the committee on corporations.

From the judiciary committee, relating to exceptions by the state in criminal cases; was ordered to lie and be printed.

By Mr. Blanchard of Windsor, to define the liability of employer to employee and to establish a schedule of compensation; was referred to the committee on state and industrial interests.

WEBSTERVILLE.

The first meeting of the home mission week, as observed by the Baptist church of Websterville, was well attended Monday evening. Reports on the subjects assigned showed marked interest in missions. At the close of the meeting adjournment was to the vestry, where a model Esquimaux village and missionary pictures, which had been arranged by the Sunday school scholars, were on exhibition.

A TANK HEATER

like this one will earn five cents every day that you use it to warm the water for ONE COW. This statement is vouched for by many of our best local dairymen, who have kept careful record of the increase of milk from each cow when their drinking water has the chill taken off. How MANY COWS HAVE YOU?

The next 120 days at least will be days when ice will form on every unprotected water tub in Vermont, and when you have to smash the ice for a chance to water your cows. THAT WATER IS NOT FIT TO GIVE A COW. A Tank Heater like the above, large enough to heat the water for ten cows, will cost you $6.75. HOW CAN YOU AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT ONE? The next larger size is only $8.00, and will quickly and easily heat the water in the largest tub in this section. Figure this out for yourself. A lead pencil and piece of paper will show you at once how much each day is costing you in loss of milk, if you have no heater. Then "GO AND SEE ALLEN."
